FANCY A GAME?: The facility will be used by Lea Manor High School during the day and for general hire at other times

New £400k pitch is ready for kick-off

IT WAS game on last Thursday when a new £400,000 3G football pitch was finally opened. The facility, which is at the Lea Manor Recreation Centre, was funded by a grant from the Premier League and the FA Facilities Fund. It is a full-sized all-weather playing area and it will be used by Lea Manor High School during the day, but will be available for general hire during evenings, weekends and school holidays. Luton Town footballers Mark O'Brien and Alex Lawless were at the opening along with Active Luton chief executive Helen Barnett and the deputy mayor councillor Sameera Saleem. Ms Barnett said: "We are delighted to have this new pitch. It enables the Lea Manor recreation centre to provide a valuable space for sports teams of all ages across the community."

Life term for Maguire killer

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VIOLENT and dangerous man who stabbed a cannabis dealer to death has been given a life sentence with a minimum term of 27-years.

Jason Nelson, 32, who lived in Marsh Farm, plunged a knife four times into Jordan Maguire, 20, on May 26, 2013.

He was found guilty on Thursday by a jury of seven men and five women at Luton Crown Court.

The jury found him not guilty of sexually assaulting a woman in her 20s on the same day and raping a 60-year-old grandmother shortly afterwards.

Throughout the case Nelson denied all the charges.

The prosecution alleges that Nelson had attacked the women on the Marsh Farm estate during the early evening of May 26.

Later at around 7.30pm he met a couple who were looking to buy cannabis and he took them to Jordan's home in Thrales Close.

The woman stayed outside while Nelson and the man went in. They agreed on a £20 cannabis deal, which Nelson would share with the couple.

Inside, Jordan produced a biscuit tin containing bags of cannabis. Suddenly and without warning, Nelson produced a black handled knife with a 7 to 8-inch blade which he raised above his head.

He stabbed Jordan in the right upper chest and as Jordan ran out towards the back door, Nelson stabbed him again. The stab wound to the chest had punctured Jordan's aorta and he was fatally injured.

Jordan lived with his mother Julie and she found him dying moments later as she returned to the house. She cradled him in her arms as he died.

After the incident Nelson is said to have gone to stay with a girlfriend in Ipswich for two weeks before flying from Gatwick to his native Grenada.

He moved on to Trinidad, where he was arrested on 16 October, 2013 before being extradited back the UK.

The court heard Nelson had previous convictions back in Grenada for gang related violence when he had used a machete in 2005, as well as the violent robbery of a tourist on the island in 2007.

Jordan's long-term girlfriend Laura O'Neill told the court how she discovered she was pregnant days after he died. Nine months later she gave birth to their baby daughter.

She read an emotional statement to the court in which she said her daughter had been robbed of her father.

Ms O'Neill also spoke about how she dreaded the day in the future when she would have to tell her daughter what had happened to her father.

In passing sentence, Judge Michael Kay QC told Nelson: "You are an extremely violent and dangerous man."

He also said he was satisfied Nelson had taken the knife with him to Jordan's home but added that the real motive for the murder had not come out in court.

Hold-up on police custody enquiries a disgrace that cannot be ignored

THERE are few things more traumatic than losing a loved one.

But after two years, the pain is still fresh for the family of Leon Briggs who died in police custody on November 4, 2013.

Especially since the Independent Police Complaints Commission's investigation (IPCC) is still not concluded.

And this week we have reported (see below) that the nightmare for Faruk Ali, an autistic man who it is alleged was mistreated by police in February last year, will not be over until at least next March.

Editor's Letter

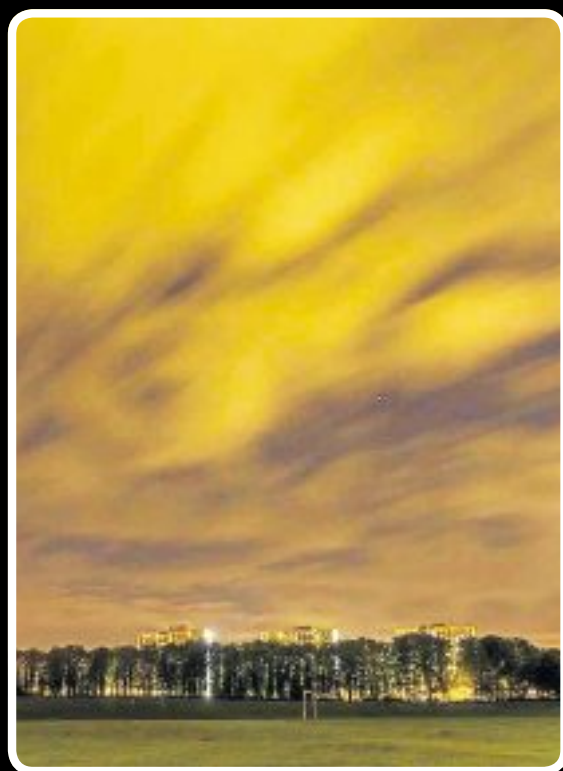

There will be no answers to his family's questions as the force has failed to find a chairperson to conduct a full and proper review into the circumstances.

Some may cry 'conspiracy', others 'cock-up', but whichever explanation you subscribe to it is difficult to imagine a justification for such a long delay in a case as crucial as this for the force.

I am sure the investigation will be a complex one, but we see murder, fraud and sex abuse investigations completed more swiftly than this on a regular basis.

Why is this so different?
These families need answers and the public deserve transparency. And waiting years to get them is just not good enough.

Misconduct case delayed until March

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PUBLIC hearing into how police treated an autistic man from Luton when he was arrested last year has been postponed until at least March.

Faruk Ali was mistakenly arrested by police in February last year, following which an investigation was launched by the Independent Police Complaints Commission.

The latest delay will mean the family's search for justice will have gone on for at least two years, after a long battle which has also included legal proceedings against the two officers involved.

The family were told this information in a letter they received from Bedfordshire Police.

Faruk's brother Dhoir said: "It's just delay tactics and we don't know why they're doing this. Everyone involved is concerned with how long this is taking and how it's being dragged out. We just want justice for my brother and also for some transparency in the police to finally be shown."

Faruk, who is disabled, was allegedly assaulted by PCs Christopher Thomas and Christopher Pitts in Luton outside his home last February. After a lengthy trial, the two police officers were cleared of all charges in relation to the incident in December last year.

However, Faruk's family and lawyers are not giving up yet.

The reason for the delay given by Bedfordshire Police was that the force has been unable to find someone to chair the hearing.

A spokesman for Justice 4 Faruk said: "Bedfordshire Police has known of this case for 18 months, has known of a high likelihood of a misconduct hearing and that under the new legislation it would have to take place in public and would require a suitable person to chair."

"Yet it has been unable to organise this and considers it justifiable that there is a delay in progressing this matter on this basis."

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said: "A public hearing regarding Faruk Ali is due to take place in March."

"A date and location is yet to be confirmed."

Nadiya to light up town

GREAT British Bake Off winner Nadiya Hussain will be switching on the Christmas lights at the annual Lighting up Luton event next month.

Nadiya, who was born in Luton, won the competition earlier this month and will be coming home to mark the launch of Christmas.

Nadiya said: "I love coming back to Luton so was honoured to be asked to switch on the town's festive lights and be part of such a wonderful community event."

The switch on event takes place in the town centre on November 28 at 5.30pm and there will be a range of Christmas activities taking place throughout the day.

Cllr Sian Timoney said: "We are thrilled that Nadiya has agreed to switch on Luton's Christmas lights. Lighting up Luton has always been a hugely popular event and Nadiya's involvement will only add to this."

Hatters looking to Power Court

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

LAND at Power Court is top of the list for the new Hatters stadium site, Luton on Sunday understands.

A source close to the club has confirmed this, but said there is still a long way to go in any negotiations until anything is concluded.

The club is also looking at the possibility of the site in Gipsy Lane, but with the expected construction of a new school there, Power Court looks to be the most likely option.

Luton Town Football

CHIEF EXEC: Gary Sweet

Club would not confirm this, but the club's chief executive Gary Sweet said: "The football club has a number of options with regard to the specific site of the stadium, none of which I am at liberty to announce at this stage.

"I can confirm that no specific site has been secured and that we are keeping our options open."

"What our proposed development scheme at junction 10a does for us is to help raise capital to deliver an optimal solution while it unlocks a highly strategic plot of land that will significantly benefit Luton and the region."

The club was also present at the property conference MIPIM UK this week, looking to attract potential investors for a multi-use industrial and retail site on land near junction 10a.

Gran gives evidence in Imran trial

THE grandmother of baby Imran, who died at her Luton home, told a jury that she had not seen the child 'wasting away' before his death on January 17, 2014.

Angela Price, and the boy's mother Jessica Price, are on trial at Luton Crown Court accused of neglecting the child who died from severe dehydration.

The prosecution allege it would have been obvious to the women that Imran was failing to thrive. He also suffered extreme nappy rash at the time and the mother admits she failed to get suitable medical assistance for him.

Jessica's barrister, Andrew Jeffreys QC, has said she will not be giving evidence, but Angela did on Friday.

Mrs Price said the little boy also seemed to have lots of colds and shortly before his death his mother was making him smaller feeds but more often, as he was not taking a full feed.

But she denied that she had noticed him 'wasting away', and said the only problems she was aware of were his colds and 'cutting teeth'.

Jessica Price, 23, and Angela Price, 62, both of Morris Close, Luton, plead not guilty to cruelty to a person under 16 by failing to provide the baby with adequate food and drink.

They plead not guilty to a second charge of cruelty to a child by failing to obtain medical aid for the infant when he failed to thrive.

Both deny causing or allowing the baby's death and Angela Price alone denies a charge of causing or allowing a child to suffer severe physical harm.

a warm welcome awaits you

Authority blasted for investigation delay

LUTON Borough Council has come under fire for the way it is handling investigations into an ex-councillor and a senior director.

Councillor David Franks, leader of the Luton Liberal Democrats, said the delay into hearings involving former Labour councillor Khtija Malik and corporate director Colin Chick was 'disgraceful'.

Mrs Malik was suspended by her party before the general election in May this year over alleged irregularities in her expenses claims.

Mr Chick, who is in charge of environment and regeneration, was suspended for allegedly verbally abusing a councillor from a neighbouring authority during an awards evening in June this year. Since both cases came to light Luton Borough Council has refused to comment on the progress of either investigation and only this week it revealed that a hearing for Mrs Malik would be held in November.

NOT AT WORK: Mr Chick has been suspended by the council

It has appointed Laura Church, who was its head of business and consumer services, to take over Mr Chick's role on an interim basis.

Cllr Franks said: "To be honest, it looks to me like they are not handling it. Both parties are being left hanging because there is nothing going on. It's disgraceful."

"My biggest argument is that nothing is happening and in the mean time Colin Chick is on a high salary and is not allowed to come to work."

A source close to Mrs Malik said: "There is no information or support. We are just waiting for it to be over."

"This has impacted her health and she is playing the waiting game like the media."

"We have had no contact from them. It's ridiculous."

A council spokeswoman said: "We do not discuss staffing matters."

Mr Chick was not available for comment.

Urgent talks held over house crisis

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCILS in London will be invited to a meeting where they will talk about the number of families they are sending to live in Luton.

Councillor Tom Shaw, responsible for housing at Luton Borough Council, said he wanted to 'take the politics out of it' and discuss how all authorities could tackle the housing crisis together.

Earlier this year Luton on Sunday revealed that families from London being housed in the town were storing their belongings in fridges and sleeping on the floor at a block of flats in Cardiff Road.

This week it emerged that 20 London boroughs have placed a total of 126 families in accommodation in Luton.

Zafar Iqbal, a cab driver from Walthamstow, has been living in Cardiff Road since April this year.

He said: "I'm still in Luton and I have to take the kids to London to school."

"With the council I'm still waiting for them to call me and I have sent them many e-mails telling them that my kids have to wake up before 6am and school starts at 8.35am. Sometimes we get there late, so I'm getting letters from the school."

"We have a lot of problems and we tried to get a place in Luton but they said there's nothing available."

"My situation is not good and I am suffering."

Another family, who were moved back to Walthamstow recently, said other residents had already moved into their old flat.

He said: "After your newspaper article about the council putting pressure on Waltham Forest we went back to London, so that was very good for us."

"There are still some families living in Luton because when we left some other people went into the flat."

Cllr Shaw said: "We are going to be sending out a letter to all the London boroughs asking them to come up to Luton and talk to us."

"We tried it over a year ago and nothing came of it."

"We have got to try and find a way round it all. They get a bigger housing allowance than us so they can pay more but what that is doing is putting our people outside the town."

"We have got to try and take the politics out of it because it's the people that we care about."

WALKABOUT: PM David Cameron meets staff and pupils at Denbigh High School

PM: 'Officers can do more'

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PRIME Minister David Cameron has dismissed concerns that a lack of funding means Bedfordshire Police cannot combat terrorism effectively.

Speaking while visiting Luton on Monday, the prime minister said the force had done a 'good job' of fighting crime and terror while also cutting costs.

Last week, Bedfordshire police and crime commissioner Ollie Martins warned that any serious terror threats involving extremists connected to Luton would be the Government's fault as Bedfordshire Police was 'ridiculously overstretched.'

Mr Cameron said the force had shown it could 'do more for less' by cutting crime.

He said: "I think they can go on doing that, finding savings in the back office and making sure they work on the priorities for people, so I think there's no problem of doing that. We'll obviously go on giving special funding to counter-terrorism policing, which is obviously important, but I think the police here in Bedfordshire can continue with a good record."

Cuts leave police with 'reduced' capacity

BUDGET cuts have left the county's police force 'struggling' to work effectively, a new report has found.

HM Inspector of Constabulary said Bedfordshire Police had achieved its target of a £20.8 million budget reduction in the last four years but in doing so had 'reduced its capacity'.

When asked if the force had cut too much too soon, chief constable Jon Boucher said the Government's spending review had 'forced' it to make the reductions. He added that he was 'disappointed' that government proposals indicated there would be no extra money coming.

He said: "We would agree that we were forced to make the cuts through the initial spending review and my predecessors had to make difficult decisions in order to continue policing the county while making the necessary savings."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

£1.1m? Stick it on the card

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than a million pounds has been spent on council credit cards in the last two years, it can be revealed.

Luton Borough Council staff have racked up £1,171,939 between 2013-2015 in expenditure which includes flights abroad, Facebook advertising and temporary accommodation for homeless residents.

A spokeswoman for the authority said its high spending was down to the cards being used for items such as legal court payments and emergency accommodation.

The data was released following a Freedom of Information request sent to the council by Luton on Sunday.

A similar request in 2013 revealed that the authority only spent £170,000 on its procurement cards between the 2008 and 2011 financial years.

However, that amount has gone up significantly and transactions in the latest rounds of payments include £181,678 on hotels for homeless residents, £6,407 on Facebook adverts and £6,699 on plane tickets.

Councillor David Franks, leader of the Luton Liberal Democrats, said he was 'concerned' by the increasing number of children in care whose families did not live in Britain.

He said: "So long as the right checks and controls are in place I can see no problem in the use of charge cards.

"What is of concern is the fact that it has shown up the increasing numbers of children in care whose families are not resident in Britain.

"For most looked after children it is important they maintain contact with their families."

A council spokeswoman said: "Where a child is being looked after by the council, unless it is not in their best interests, we have a statutory duty to endeavour to promote contact between the child and their family on a regular basis under the Children's Act 1989, as does every local authority in the country.

"This is no different for children placed with us where their birth parents or families happen to live outside of the UK than it is for children whose families live in Luton.

"By law, consideration has to be given to how best to manage this responsibility and we will always identify the most cost effective way possible and occasionally this will mean carrying out contact family sessions outside of the UK to enable us to meet our legal requirements."

The spokeswoman also said Facebook advertising was a 'cost-effective' way of promoting its services and that some of the flights were used by officers going to conferences.

- Homeless accommodation - £181,678
- Facebook advertising - £6,407
- Flight tickets - £6,699

Residents' meadow anger forces rethink

DEMANDS made by residents to reverse a decision to turn a park into a meadow will be considered by the council.

Limbury Park, once used as a picnic and play area, was turned into a wild-flower meadow by Luton Borough Council last month.

At a meeting last week residents accused the authority of 'environmental vandalism'.

A council spokesman said the authority would be holding meetings to 'discuss how this situation can be resolved'.

Move puts field's future in doubt

'DISAPPOINTED' residents who are concerned with a college's plan to move location have called on it to invest in its current site.

The Barnfield Development Action Group (BDAG) said it wanted assurance that the playing fields at Barnfield College's New Bedford Road site would be retained if it were sold. Last week the college said it needs to move to a 'central location' so it can achieve the aims set out in a three-year plan and 'once again become an outstanding college' for Luton students.

BDAG said: "If the Barnfield Avenue campus is to be sold what will Luton Borough Council do to ensure that any new owners retain the existing playing fields as green space and allow public access to that green space and the rest of the site?"

A Barnfield spokeswoman said: "We are disappointed that the group has not chosen to contact us directly, and would like to take this opportunity to reassure them that we will continue to be as open with them as we possibly can be over our plans.

"However, in order for the college to thrive in this competitive environment, we must move the campus to a central location which is fit for purpose."

DOZY PARKERS

Grassed up

EVERYONE knows it can be difficult to find a parking spot in the morning of a school run, but this is taking the biscuit.

Spotted in Riddy Lane on Friday morning, this Mercedes SUV completely ignored even attempting to park at the road side and left the car perched on the grass verge.

One truly dozy parker.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Tafheen Sharif, ex-councillor

Education is important

IN this week's blog, former councillor and national governance leader Tafheen Sharif talks about education and the important role parents and guardians play. She wants more parents to get involved in their child's learning and help them fulfil their potential.

WE are lucky that every child in the UK gets an education, an opportunity to do their best and fulfil their potential.

Children in some parts of the world are not so fortunate and do not have this right, an access to knowledge and learning.

It is therefore vitally important that as parents we play a larger part in our child's education, read to them, guide them, take an interest and talk to our young people about their studies.

Parents, carers and families are by far the most important influences in a child's life and parental engagement can be a very powerful tool in raising achievement. By working together with the school, parents can create a fantastic home learning environment and help to reinforce lessons learned in school.

Unfortunately, all too often, parents become disengaged with school and may even appear disinterested in their child's education.

The case may be that parents are often facing common barriers which prevent them from engaging fully with the school.

Some of the barriers are:

- Unpleasant memories – Difficult memories of their own time at school can stop parents being involved

- Leaving teaching to teachers – Some parents don't think they are 'able' to help their child learn

- Language barriers – Not speaking English as a first language can make communication difficult

- Only getting involved

if there's a problem – Parents don't have to wait until there's an issue before contacting the school

- Infrequent communication – The amount of communication between schools and parents differs from school to school

- Busy schedules – Many parents work long hours so they cannot get into school during school hours.

Parents who take a supportive role in their child's learning do make a difference in improving achievement. The active involvement of parents in the life of the school and education can help promote a learning community in which children and young people engage positively with society.

Schools too can benefit from developing positive partnerships with parents by involving them in all decisions affecting their child's education and learning.

Engaging with parents gives schools the chance to understand the role that they play in their child's learning and development.

In fact, schools cry out for more engaged parents, especially in the child's younger years – this will help towards the prosperity and future of each child.

So let's, as parents, carers and families, overcome these barriers, help schools improve the chances for our children, see our children prosper and achieve their full potential enabling them to become responsible adults making a difference for themselves and to the lives of others.

Wild over park 'vandals'

LOCAL outrage at the recent desecration of Limbury Park – in order to plant some more wild flowers – was clearly demonstrated at the council's area meeting last Thursday at The Meads School.

Council officers got a thorough ear-bashing not only for the desecration itself but also for the inadequate and phoney consultation that preceded it.

Trevor Tween, our ecology and landscaping officer was in attendance. I thought this particularly brave of him because he was seen as the prime mover behind this environmental vandalism.

Several residents protested and made impassioned demands to have the whole of the grass meadow reinstated. Limbury Park has suffered for years from what many see as a policy of wilful neglect and this latest assault is the last straw.

Councillors were left in no doubt that nothing short of total reinstatement would be acceptable. Residents were in no mood for compromise – not only because of the shoddy way they had been treated but also because past experience has clearly shown that wherever wilderness is allowed to abut mown areas the wilderness is allowed to encroach.

Alternative areas for the wild flowers were suggested and these included those now covered by the intimidating, and mostly very ugly, giant cow parsley and hog weed as well as both river banks stretching from Bramingham Road right through to Runfold Avenue. The chairman, Cllr Garrett, in summing up directed that the officers go away and think again; and while doing so they should remind themselves that the park doesn't belong to them or the councillors but to the people of Limbury.

Residents left the meeting with a feeling of cautious optimism though with the memory of the library closures fiasco still fresh in their memories they began considering their next move in the event that LBC again ignores their wishes.

Shocking indictment

LAST week, LoS reported that, in the 12 months up to April this year, 40,000 outpatients missed their appointments at the L&D hospital, wasting £2.9 million.

Allowing for an estimated 30 per cent of that number (12,000), who did so 'out of forgetfulness', that leaves 28,000 who neither 'forgot', nor, apparently, bothered to tell the hospital that they could not attend. That is a shocking indictment of their lack of responsibility.

Twenty-eight thousand irresponsible people from amongst whom local employers can pick their next redundancies!

As for the hospital's introduction of a 'call reminder service', the fact that this has resulted in a reduction in the 'Did Not Attend' (DNA) rate of only two per cent is certainly disappointing. Judging from my own recent experience, however, I suggest that these calls are being made too early.

The current six or seven days in advance of the appointment should be cut to one or two if the DNA rate is to be further reduced.

School danger

I READ a recent article about road safety near schools and what Farley Junior School is doing about it.

I live near the Sacred Heart School in Lamford Drive, Stopsley.

Every school day I witness poor driving and bad parking. The school day starts at 7am for the breakfast club and finishes at 5pm.

The drivers exceed the 20mph speed limit, park on corners across residents' drives, drive along pavements, let their children out of the car on the road side and cross the road at the most dangerous places.

Langford Drive is a no through road, making it a very difficult drop off area. Cllr Hazel Simmons has the responsibility for road safety. In the article she mentions the camera car – on rare occasions it is seen in our area after all the parents have gone.

I do not like money being wasted in this way.

I would ask the council, the police and the school to do something about this problem which is getting worse.

Home and Health

ADVERTISEMENT

DID YOU KNOW that each year, in a hard water area, the average family home will use water containing 154lbs (70kg) of scale. If left unchecked, this mountain of limescale can cause serious – and expensive damage to your home plumbing and appliances, kitchen and bathroom fittings too.

The Carbon Trust estimate that just 1mm of limescale in water pipes can increase energy consumption by 7%. With utility bills set to rise for the foreseeable future, this represents a significant cost to the average family home.

Your household plumbing becomes increasingly inefficient, which makes heating your water extremely expensive. For example, a boiler with just 5mm of scale takes an extra 4 hours to supply the average home's hot water – 90 minutes is all it should take!

And, of course, this limescale finds its way into your household appliances too. Just take a look into most kettles and the evidence is there for all to see. The burned up heating element, the heavily stained inside and the rusty flakes of scale which find their way into your morning cups.

Yes, you can buy a new kettle for less than a fiver, but washing machines and dishwashers are much more expensive to replace. Limescale build-up reduces the lifespan of the appliance and increases the likelihood of a breakdown. And who couldn't do without the expense of calling out a plumber these days?

Even if you ignore the hidden dangers lurking in your water system, physical evidence of limescale damage is all too evident throughout your home.

In the kitchen, taps, tiles and stainless steel surfaces all bear the hallmarks of limescale damage. Evidence can be found on your pots and pans and, unless your dishwasher has just been installed, you will find tell tale water spots and stains on just-washed glasses and cutlery too.

In bathrooms and WC's, toilets, taps and tiles are dulled with scale damage, and the once-sparkling sink and shiny shower enclosure are almost impossible to keep clean for any length of time.

Even freshly washed clothes feel rough to the touch, and tiny scale particles can contribute to incidences of dry, itchy skin for yourself and family members.

New home builders and renovation companies are waking up to the damage limescale can cause, and the cost implications of leaving it unchecked. What's the point in investing in that sparkly new kitchen or bathroom, only to see the shine come off within months, thanks to the build-up of limescale.

THE GOOD NEWS is that limescale can be permanently removed from your home quickly and easily, using a system that can pay for itself in the first 18 months. After that, the significant savings are yours to keep... year after year! A whole-house Gold Series Water Softener System from EWT provides real cost savings in terms of service, maintenance and replacement of water heaters, dishwashers, washing machines and showers, and also extends their life expectancy.

SAVE MONEY, TIME AND WATER! Independent research on the benefits of EWT's Gold Series System shows it can pay for itself in a matter of months. A lifetime of softened water will help you save time, water and money – up to £500 annually on detergents, heating and appliances

The cost of limescale damage on your home appliances can be huge, not to mention the effects on your family's wellbeing. Take advantage of this Exclusive Offer from FOREVER! EWT to remove limescale from your home...

SAVE MONEY WHEN YOU PROTECT YOUR HOME & YOUR APPLIANCES FROM

THE HIDDEN DANGERS OF LIMESCALE

HOW MUCH LIMESCALE

USING YOUR EWT Water Softener can cut the cost of heating your water by 25%. Kitchen appliances operate more efficiently and last longer without maintenance. Just 1mm of limescale in pipes can increase energy consumption by 7%, adding hundreds of pounds to the average home's heating bills.

(depending on usage) – by installing a whole-house Gold Series System.

MAY HELP PROTECT SENSITIVE SKIN Whilst there is no hard and fast scientific proof that hard water irritates soft, sensitive skin, with the EWT System, clothes come out of your washing machine softer, towels aren't as hard and don't irritate soft sensitive skin as much.

INDEPENDENT STUDY: "Softeners are among 'very best' household energy savers – 'green benefits' to water heaters, appliances and showerheads"

LISLE, Illinois—EWT Water Softeners can save significant amounts of money and energy in the home, a major new study by the independent Battelle Institute has revealed. Softeners help preserve the efficiency of water heaters and major appliances, and keep showers and taps unclogged, the report found. In the study, dishwashers and washing machines were operated for 30 days and 240 completed wash cycles on soft and hard water sources. The units using soft water were almost completely free of any water scale build-up. Units using hard water showed the need for descaling and cleaning due to the build-up of scale and deposits.

Limescale build-up in washing machines and dishwashers significantly increases running costs and reduces the life expectancy of these costly kitchen appliances

ONE FAMILY'S STORY

Despite moving into a brand new home, the Desai Family soon had a leaking tap in their bathroom. "After seeing how quickly limescale was building up on the outside of that tap, I could only imagine what it was doing to our new washing machine, heating system and shower. We called EWT to ask about their Gold Series system, which they said would remove limescale from our water forever! There was never any pressure from the adviser, and he made sure I understood everything – I had a lot of questions! I can now say I made the right choice with my EWT system. There is no more limescale in our home, cleaning is much easier – especially in the kitchen and bathroom – and I'm confident that I am protecting my appliances and boilers from unnecessary damage from hard water and limescale."

HOT WATER COSTS LESS

Better still, you can save up to 30% or more on hot water costs – your usage of limescale removal products will also tumble when you install an EWT system. Combined with reduced maintenance costs, this represents a smart investment for you, your home and your wallet... for years to come!

In fact, you can start saving right away with this INCREDIBLE OFFER from EWT Technologies. An EWT engineer can install a Gold Series 'whole-house' system in under 3 hours for just £499 (inc VAT – was £999).

Installation is FREE (normally £140) and this offer includes an G1 Drinking Water System (normally £120) for crisp clear drinking water straight from your tap! That's £260 of extra value, yours FREE when you call today! And that's not all...

Anger over lack of community centre

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SHOP OWNER from an area without a community centre or library has accused the council of leaving residents with 'nothing'.

Neil Hunter, who runs a model shop in Sundon Park Parade, said it was 'wrong' that residents did not have a permanent home for local events and activities.

The community centre in Sundon Park closed in 2011 while the library was shut last year and sold to a private group earlier this year.

At a meeting last week residents called on Luton Borough Council to help them find a new community space.

Mr Hunter said he had to take his ill father to a community group in Dunstable because there was nothing available locally.

He said: "Sundon Park needs a community centre big time and I would be happy to run it."

"The people of Sundon Park pay their taxes and every other area has a centre but Sundon Park has nothing."

READY FOR ACTION: Neil Hunter said residents were willing to run a new community centre if the council would come on board

"For example, we used to have a fence around the park but when someone broke it the council took the whole fence down."

"We do not have a library and we have nothing. We have shops but we do not have anywhere to go."

"When I grew up I had that sort of thing and I do not see anything like that now. I think it's wrong."

Fiona Green, the Labour

councillor who represents the area, said: "There's obviously the school which is available for extensive community use but we have financial challenges with central government making cuts so we do have to talk to the community about the challenges that we have."

"As a ward councillor I want to work towards getting the best use out of any resources that we have got."

Green light sought for school annexes

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

CENTRAL Bedfordshire Council is looking at the possibility of annexing its own grammar schools following a landmark decision made by the Government in Kent last week.

The authority has asked for permission to reintroduce grammar schools to meet the need for 1,000 new school places in Leighton Buzzard and Dunstable.

A spokeswoman for the Labour group, which opposes the idea, said: "Grammar schools have been no more successful than comprehensive at helping to ensure their pupils gain a university degree. Central Bedfordshire Council should be concentrating on making schools exceptional so that every pupil has an equal opportunity to get the best education."

At present there are no concrete plans in place for grammar schools in the area.

Councillor Mark Versallion, executive member for education and skills, said: "We remain committed to an education system that provides excellent education opportunities for all pupils."

"We have no plans to create grammar school provision in Central Bedfordshire but are rather seeking to establish what the Department for Education believes is now possible. Even if the DfE says we could create grammar provision, it doesn't necessarily mean we would."

"We will always remain open minded and respond positively to change and new opportunities to help improve educational outcomes for children in Central Bedfordshire."

Right up your street

Unlikely source behind Aussie themed street

THIS week Howard Chandler writes about how he uncovers the town's road mysteries...

Sometimes a street name puzzle is solved for me in the most convincing way possible – by the person responsible for naming it.

Canberra Gardens, a road off Catsbrook Road in Limbury, was developed by local builders H. C. Janes. It is recorded in the council minutes as being named in November 1958. I assumed Australia's capital was the inspiration but then I noticed that the cruise liner SS Canberra was named in March 1958.

It seemed likely that this had played a part in the road name. I put this on my website and was told by Terry Sell, at a local history meeting, that he suggested it as it was his favourite aircraft at the time.

English Electric developed the Canberra jet aircraft in the late 1940s. It was used by the RAF for more than 50 years, serving in a number of wars and was also bought by other air forces. Incidentally, the Sell family provided the second part of the name of the H. C. Janes building in Stopsley, Jansel House.

Spooks & Sparklers!

It was said that on 'All Hallows Eve' the transitional change between life and death became blurred, so the dead could return to earth and try to become reborn.

Anyone venturing abroad on this night would wear a hideous masks to disguise themselves and try to scare off any of these wandering spirits they may encounter. The fears associated with Halloween ebbed away, Halloween began to be celebrated in a spirit of fun. Today pumpkin lamps are made, and children dress up and visit friends and neighbours demanding a treat, the penalty for refusal being a trick or practical joke of some sort.

SPOOKS & SPARKLERS!

Bonfire night usually occurs on a cold, damp night when the part of you facing the bonfire is roasting and the back bit, frozen solid.

Potatoes baked in their jackets seem to be part of the traditional menu. However, why not consider baked yams, sweet potatoes and parsnips? They can all be cooked whole in their jackets in the same way but try filling them with some Mexican enchilada fillings. If you fancy cheese, try feta, mozzarella or Red Leicester rather than strong cheddar, and don't forget the Worcester sauce!

Calais crisis taking toll on our hauliers

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

IT looks like a thousand other service stations: fast food outlets; petrol pumps; coffee shops.

But Toddington has gained national notoriety as the most 'popular' place for stowaways to disembark lorries caught before crossing the channel.

Steve Pierce, partner at Leighton Buzzard-based haulage firm S&J Pierce Transport, has spoken of his growing concern for drivers over the lack of action on the crisis.

He said: "Toddington isn't targeted, it's just the first stop for most drivers on their way in from Dover.

"If you can get off there you'd be relieved after hours in the back of a lorry clinging onto an axle.

"The situation hasn't been getting any better for us.

"We've spent all of this money securing our lorries for the crossings and it's still just as bad."

Since 2010 over 400 arrests have been made by police

As the refugee crisis in Calais worsens, we look at the issues facing haulage firms. While their crisis is not on a humanitarian level, it is definitely on a human level. We look at the problems facing the company, the drivers and what needs to be done across Bedfordshire's roads, with around 80 per cent being made at Toddington.

No data is yet available for the cost of policing immigration since that date.

But it's not just about money.

The constant risk of stowaways has had a mental impact on the drivers.

Mr Pierce said: "It's had an effect on the drivers as well, many of whom just don't want to make the crossings which of course has an effect on business.

"You've got to think of the safety of the drivers as well - when they're doing the checks they don't know what will happen."

Bob Stone (pictured), who has been working for the firm for close to 30 years, told us there has always been a problem and that he now just sees it as part and parcel of the job.

Mr Pierce said that while none of his drivers have been victims of violence, he was aware of drivers from other companies which had.

He added: "If the countries in the EU can't stop them then how are we meant to?"

"We can secure our vehicles but we've got to be able to do more. We can't stop this from happening and yet we are the ones at risk of being fined."

TESTING TIMES: Steve Pierce's haulage firm has been affected by the migrant crisis in Calais with some drivers unwilling to make the crossing

Bedfordshire Police said: "The infrastructure, motorways, airports and national and international transport links for Bedfordshire makes it particularly susceptible to call-outs involving suspected immigration offences. "Additionally, public awareness is growing which has led to an increase in reporting from lorry drivers and residents, who are doing the right thing in being vigilant and calling us.

"We always work closely with immigration enforcement to process any detainees as quickly as possible and this partnership will continue.

"We will continue to deal with incidents like this as and when they arise.

"We do have contingency plans in place should we ever reach our usual capacity." The drivers' comments come as reports this week showed the UK government spend £200 million a year to 'police' the Calais migrant camp.

Mr Pierce added: "We can really do without all of this. "It costs us a great deal of money on security and in keeping our drivers safe from harm."

Ruby's got mental health on the brain

ON the day Ruby Wax hit the alternative comedy scene in the 1980s she became an instant favourite with the crowds.

The US-born comedienne and writer started out as an actor at the Royal Shakespeare Company and has since gone on to write and perform in her own television shows.

In April this year she was awarded an OBE for her services to mental health and it is the lessons from her battle with clinical depression which has helped to inform her show 'Sane New World'.

Talking about the production earlier this year, she said: "Sometimes when I walk down a street, I watch people I'm passing, all zipped up in their own self-made universe; planning, worrying, scheming, hoping and fantasizing.

"I wonder what the reality they're carrying in those six cubic inches on top of their heads is? What TV show starring them are they watching?

"Whether they're deep in conversation with someone on their phone or thinking to themselves in their head, they seem completely unaware there is anything happening outside their world.

"We on the outside are detritus they have to negotiate past so we don't block their route.

"I've never managed to lock eyes with someone who's looking at me the way I'm looking at them, someone's who's curious and thinking what I might be thinking?

"I really don't remember anyone looking up at me with curiosity, it's usually a look of 'What the hell are you looking at, weirdo?'"

As a patron of the British Neuroscience Association, Ruby has campaigned hard on mental health issues.

During her show she will invite the audience to share their own experiences and build a network of support and advice.

She will also be appearing at a number of mental health conferences this year, including the National Mindfulness Conference and joining keynote speakers such as the Dalai Lama.

FILM

GROVE THEATRE
NOVEMBER 5,
2.30PM AND 7.30PM

DOUBLE, double, toil and trouble...

One of the most famous tales from the Bard has been reimagined for the screen and is showing for one night only next month in Dunstable.

Joining countless iconic adaptations of what is arguably Shakespeare's greatest tragedy, most notably the effort by Orson Welles, this latest production stands up to the test, if critics are to be believed.

Known as 'The Scottish Play' by superstitious actors, this is as close as almost any adaptation has come to justifying that name, with the looming highland mountains rarely out of shot and near perfect Scottish accents from the cast, with the exception of Lady Macbeth.

Starring Michael Fassbender as the titular fearless and ambitious Scottish general and Marion Cotillard next to him as Lady Macbeth, this reimagining of the classic tale has been wowing audiences across the world since its initial release at the Cannes Film Festival this May, where it put up a strong fight for best film.

Backing the two leads is Paddy Considine as Banquo, Sean Harris as Macduff and Elizabeth Debicki as Lady Macduff.

Couple the stellar cast with the Academy Award winning producers of The King's Speech and acclaimed director Justin Kurzel, you have a recipe for success, which the reviews have shown.

For those unaware of the plot, it takes place in Middle Age Scotland, with the aspirational and seemingly delusional Macbeth having aspirations of taking the crown himself with some much needed help and pushing from his wife eventually achieves that goal, which opens up a whole new can of worms.

This thrilling interpretation of one of Shakespeare's most famous and compelling characters is a dramatic reimagining of the realities of war-torn times and a tale of all-consuming passion and ambition, set in a war-torn Scottish landscape.

Tickets are £7, with £2 off for concessions and wheelchair users.

Friends of the Grove get two-for-one tickets.

If you want the VIP experience, tickets in the first three rows of the theatre are £14, with £4 off for concessions.

Tickets can be purchased online at grovetheatre.co.uk, by calling the box office on 01582 602080 or bought on the door.

£1.95 will be added to telephone and online bookings.

The film's running time is 113 minutes and is rated 15 by the BBFC.

New lease of life for Plop the owl

CHILDREN'S classic, The Owl Who Was Afraid of the Dark, is given a new twist for the stage in this production.

Blunderbus Theatre Company has taken Jill Tomlinson's bestseller and spiced it up with music and lyrics from Frank Goodhind.

The production tells the story of Plop, a baby Barn Owl who lives at the top of a tall tree in a field.

The fat and fluffy owl has big round eyes, very knackety knees and an uncharacteristic fear of the dark he needs to overcome.

Tickets cost £8 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01582 878100.

REDEMPTION
MK THEATRE
NOV 16-21, 7.30PM

Bound to cell out

DESPITE protests of his innocence, Andy Dufresne is handed a double life sentence for the brutal murder of his wife and her lover.

Incarcerated at the notorious Shawshank facility, he quickly learns that no one can survive alone but Andy strikes up an unlikely friendship with the prison fixer Red, and things take a slight turn for the better.

However, when Warden Stammas decides to bully Andy into subservi-ence and exploit his talents for accountancy, a desperate plan is quietly hatched.

The funny thing is that when the 1994 movie of The Shawshank Redemption was released in cinemas, in terms of box office takings, it was considered a flop.

Yes, The Shawshank Redemption – the film that is voted Britain's favourite ever movie time and time again!

But it all started with Stephen King

– yes, THAT Stephen King. He hasn't just written those terrifyingly creepy horror stories.

Based on his 1982 novella Rita Hayworth and The Shawshank Redemption, this play, which is adapted by Owen O'Neill and Dave Johns and directed by David Esbjornson, examines desperation, injustice, friendship and hope behind the claustrophobic bars of a maximum security facility.

Two of TV's best loved leading men, Ian Kelsey (Andy Dufresne) and Patrick Robinson (Red), star in this thrilling new production of The Shawshank Redemption.

To book your tickets call 0844 871 7652 or visit: atgtickets.com/milton-keynes for more information.

Ticket prices range from £12.90-£37.90 with a transaction fee of £2.85.

I LOVE CHRISTMAS PANTO HISTORY

'It's behind you!'

A look at the history of pantomime

How did pantomime become the marvellous (if eccentric) form of entertainment it is today? And how did it become part of Christmas? We take a look at the colourful origins of this unique tradition:
 PANTOMIME is a dynamic art form that is as much influenced as much by current affairs and political activities as it is by its original purpose, to dramatise the mystical events of Christmas. Nowadays, it is a uniquely British form of entertainment found nowhere else in the world.

But oddly, it appears to have originally derived from traditional Italian entertainment.

Early pantos were stylised productions containing certain very recognisable characters, in what was what we should term today, a 'classical Harlequinade' with traceable pagan origins.

The Harlequin, messenger of the gods, could be recognised by his wand and winged cap. Some

If anywhere might justifiably be described as 'holiday heaven', this exquisite corner of Italy, a long-time favourite of Newmarket guests, is it. At the end of the long sweep of the Bay of Naples, which curves from the bustling city beneath the brooding, triangular cone of Vesuvius, the 'Sorrentine peninsula' juts out into blue waters, the very picture of Mediterranean perfection. Combining a delightful mix of warm days and balmy nights, all the pleasure of the beach, colourful town life and some fascinating sights, this special corner of the world exudes southern Italian charm from its every pore.

pantomimes even contained a Punch-like figure, though a more friendly character than one encounters in the classic Punch and Judy show. Then called Mr. 'Ponch', he was apparently also known in Roman times under the name of Maccus.

These early pantos were full of satire and featured some pretty racy scenes.

But the British theatre-goer would not have recognised the Italian original in the rather less boisterous British version.

Where British performances favour daft jokes, slapstick and a sprinkling of innuendo, the Italian entertainment itself had its roots way back in the early Middle Ages and performers were held in high esteem.

It was David Garrick, an 18th century actor-manager from London, who recognised the festive potential of this quirky dramatic form. "If they won't come to Lear and Hamlet", he famously said, "I must give them Harlequin".

In order to avoid criticism from his peers and maintain a reputation, Garrick set about changing pantomime's cultural identity, partly by limiting Drury Lane pantomimes to the Christmas season.

Pantomimes became associated with the fun and frivolity of the holiday season rather than being denounced as a threat.

In doing so, Garrick created a convention which has survived to this day.

It's not just families who enjoy these fun-filled spectacles – the festive panto has become popular amongst celebrities keen to get their glad rags on. Soap stars such as Barbara Windsor are regularly seen touring the country alongside other household names such as David Hasselhoff and Lily Savage.

i LOVE CHRISTMAS PANTO

It's that time of the year again – oh yes, it is - with just the carving of the pumpkins and the popping of fireworks left to come, which means Christmas is well and truly on the horizon.

And for theatre folk, Christmas means one thing and one thing only... PANTO SEASON (and the mince pies and mulled wine, of course). But for many of you, finding a panto and deciding which one to go to is never an easy task. So we have taken the liberty of making it all a little easier for you, by putting together a guide of pantos in and around our region - including Northamptonshire, Bedfordshire, Milton Keynes and Cambridge.

This year's offerings, listed below, include the fairy tale of Cinderella (in three theatres across our region!), a certain Beauty and a Beast, Jack and the Beanstalk and Aladdin.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE

Royal and Derngate theatre: Cinderella

The famous rags-to-riches fairy tale will be brought magically to life by a wonderful cast led by actor, dancer, singer and television presenter John Partridge (EastEnders). He is joined by CBeebies legend Sid Sloane, as well as impressionist Danny Posthill and vocalist Alison Jiear, both fresh from their appearance on this year's Britain's Got Talent. Packed with all of the traditional Royal & Derngate pantomime ingredients its audiences have come to expect, Cinderella features stunning scenery, plenty of boos and hisses, incredible music and dancing, plus Pegasus, the amazing flying horse - all of which will ensure that you will have a ball!

When: December 11, 2015 - January 3, 2016

Tickets: From £11 - £28

Book: Visit <http://www.royalandderngate.co.uk/> or call 01604 624811.

The Deco theatre: Beauty and The Beast

This spellbinding all family pantomime is full of music, magic and mayhem, special effects, breathtaking sets, loads of laughs and lavish costumes.

The Deco's magical pantomime tells the story of Beauty, the beautiful daughter of the mayor of the town Stoney-broke. She longs for romance excitement and adventure, but little does she realise they will come when she becomes the prisoner of a monstrous Beast in return for her father's freedom.

The Beast (really a handsome Prince) must learn to love and be loved – only then will he regain his true form and live – yes you've guessed it – happily ever after but he must do this before the last petal of an enchanted rose falls or he will be forever a beast!

Coronation Street's Nick Cochrane (Andy McDonald) will play Silly Billy, X factor finalist Lydia Lucy will be Beauty, Hollyoaks' Karl James Wilson will perform as the Beast/Prince, and Emmerdale and Midsommer Murder's Tony Howes will play Nurse Jackie O'la.

When: December 11, 2015 - December 29, 2015

Tickets: From £15.50 - £20.50

Book: Visit www.thedeco.co.uk or call 01604 622749.

Kettering Lighthouse theatre: Jack and the Beanstalk.

Fee-Fi-Fo Fum.....he's 12ft tall with a hairy ... beard, and we don't mean Dame Trot!! Join intrepid Jack on the adventure of a lifetime as he bounds up the beanstalk to do battle with Giant Blunderbore. Does Dame Trot finally get her man? Can Simple Simon work out which end of the cow needs milking?

Find out in a Pantomime that scales new heights, with a spectacular stomping giant, fabulous live band and all the magic and mayhem of a traditional Christmas.

Starring Carley Stenson (Hollyoaks and Legally Blonde), Steven Pinder (Brookside) and Kevin Pallister (Emmerdale)

When: December 11, 2015 - January 3, 2016

Tickets: From £14.50

I LOVE CHRISTMAS RECIPE

Make a proper Plum Pudding this Christmas

The original plum pudding is one of those traditional delicacies that has been around for centuries and which has changed over the years according to taste and fashion.

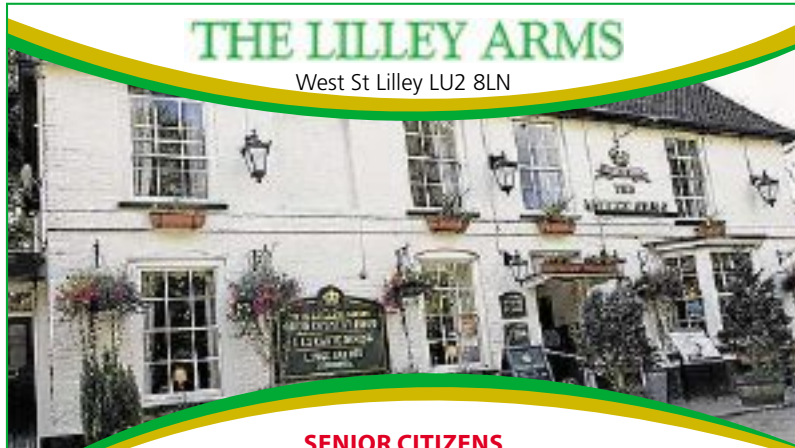

The original recipe was for a porridge-like concoction that was served piping hot from a huge tureen. George III enjoyed it and sent portions from his own table to favoured officers of the court.

It was often called 'hackin', but was first mentioned as plum pudding in a cookery book dated 1670, hackin then being something else. Make it a good old fashioned Christmas this year and turn your hand to something a little more traditional by following this simple recipe:

Eric's pad in Provence

IF YOU were an Eric Clapton fan during the 1960s then turn away now. The guitarist and songwriter, who had worldwide hits with Lay Down Sally, Layla and Wonderful Tonight, turned 70 this year.

The spectacled legend has been acclaimed as a musical hero since the '60s and by 1967 an anonymous graffiti artist had coined the phrase 'Clapton is God'.

He shows no sign of slowing down, still playing gigs around the globe and recently releasing an album. But getting away from it all obviously helps too, and the multi-millionaire musician is able to do just that in his various homes in Venice beach, Surrey, Antigua – and until recently this rustic stone farmhouse in Provence.

He bought the 10-bedroom, nine-bathroom home near the village of Nans les Pins 12 years ago for wife Melia McEnery and family as an antidote to life on the road and in the studio, but told the Sunday Times he no longer had the time to appreciate it. "Once you get through those gates, it's like entering an oasis of calm," he mused.

Set in more than 10 acres, the property comes with a private tennis court, gated swimming pool, boules pitch and cinema room, while in an annexe there's two large independent guest rooms, both with en-suite bathrooms.

The property is on the market for 2.95m Euros (around £2.18m) reduced from 3.25m Euros.

Where Fonteyn got to the pointe

ONE of the greatest classical ballet dancers, Margot Fonteyn's partnership with Rudolf Nureyev really fired the public's imagination – the pair took 23 curtain calls after their first performance together at Covent Garden in 1962, and made headlines wherever they went.

She was the Royal Ballet's prima ballerina until she retired, then it gave her the title of Prima Ballerina Assoluta, which she held until her death in 1991, aged 71.

Her former home and London dance studio stands in a row of eight Arts and Crafts-era artists' studios with tall chimneys, red-brick and terracotta exteriors, and enormous windows.

Designed in 1891 for 'bachelor artists', each property in St Paul's Studios had a bedroom, reception area and a bathroom on the ground floor for the artist, and a scullery, kitchen and bedroom in the basement for a housekeeper.

The Grade II listed building in Talgarth Road, Barons Court is now on the market for £1.4m and in need of complete renovation – it even has the long ballet mirror Fonteyn installed during her time there to perfect her posture.

The house is currently set over three levels with four large double bedrooms, two bathrooms, a large artist studio/reception, a maisonette/office area and south-facing garden.

Robbie's former rural retreat goes up for sale

Robbie Williams has a well-documented global property empire but not everyone knows about the huge house in the country he once bought near where he was brought up.

The pop star bought Old Wood some 16 years ago, paying £975,000 for the property in Betley, Cheshire before selling it on for £1.25m in 2001 at the height of his fame.

Williams, who's just about to embark on a tour of Australia, recently moved into Michael Winner's old pad in Holland Park, London last year with wife Ayda and their two children. It's one of the most spectacular private homes in the capital, with 46 rooms, seven bathrooms, three kitchens, panic room, swimming pool and private cinema in the basement. He bought it for £17.5m in 2014 but had to scale down ambitious plans for a refit after a very public spat with neighbour, Led Zeppelin rocker Jimmy Page.

The five-bedroom Old Wood has a private 13-acre lake with jetty, tennis court, six-hole golf course with bunkers and 12 tees. But should the owner grow tired of tee-ing off, they can always enjoy the many living rooms, grand dining room and massive kitchen. While he owned it, Williams built a leisure complex housing a pool, kitchen, gym, games and cinema room. It's on the market for £3.2m.

Churchill's former rental

IT'S A dilemma many of us face while the builders are in – wouldn't it be better to just move out and rent somewhere to avoid all the dust?

Even the most famous prime minister in recent history, Sir Winston Churchill, took the renting option while his home, Chartwell in Kent, was being refurbished after the war.

A popular day out on the National Trust trail, Churchill bought his beloved Chartwell in 1922 and apart from the war years – when the distinctive lakes made it an easy target for the Luftwaffe – it was the great man's home until he died in 1965.

Before they moved in, Churchill had great plans for the property and hired architect Philip Tilden to modernise and extend the house. Renovations to his home were so extensive that Chartwell was completely transformed and it took workmen two years before the Churchills could move in.

So the couple rented this house just outside nearby Westerham called Hosey Rigge, which Churchill nicknamed 'Cosy Pig', and it's now come on the market.

Dating back to the early 1900s, the six-bedroom detached country home has got stacks of period features such as sash windows, panelled doors, open fireplaces and an impressive balustraded staircase to the first floor. The elegant reception rooms and bedrooms have great views over adjoining countryside, while a heated indoor swimming pool is glazed with a shower room, sauna room and Jacuzzi.

There's also a literary connection to the house as it was once owned by Alice Liddell, the little girl for whom Lewis Carroll wrote Alice in Wonderland.

It's up for sale at £3.5m.

Wish you were living here?

WHEN this Victorian home went under the hammer three years ago it was a real treasure trove for Pink Floyd fans.

Bongo drums, tambourines and a huge homemade xylophone lay scattered around the place, while the attic housed a rare Binson Echorec 2 echo unit and lighting systems used by the band in the late '60s. The bonnet of a band member's Aston Martin was even buried in its overgrown garden.

Former home of Mike Leonard, the rock legends' influential former college tutor and landlord until his death earlier that year, it had barely been touched since Syd Barrett, Roger Waters and Nick Mason lived there while honing their musical skills.

Leonard had worked closely with the band, creating light effects that complemented their psychedelic sound. They went on to release concept albums Dark Side Of The Moon, Wish You Were Here and The Wall.

Leonard's ramshackle three-storey Victorian home in Highgate's Stanhope Gardens went under the hammer in 2012 with an estimate of £1.2m and a year later, developers got permission to build a two-storey extension. It's now had a complete facelift and is a stylish seven-bedroom, four-bathroom property complete with Poggenpohl kitchen, under-floor heating, bi-fold doors, and landscaped garden. It's on the market for £3m.

PRESS RELEASE

OCTOBER 2015

LANDLORDS: GET YOUR PROPERTY WINTER READY, ADVISES CONNELLS

Local estate agency Connells in Luton is urging landlords to take action now and make sure their rental properties are ready for the colder months ahead. With the coming season posing the risk of damage to many unprepared homes, the branch is advising landlords of their responsibility to ensure the safety of tenants, and has outlined the following top tips for landlords to assist with a safe, warm and problem-free winter:

1. Check the heating system – ensure all heating systems are fully working, bleed all radiators and, if necessary, service the boiler to prevent any nasty surprises during the cold weather;
2. Keep unoccupied properties warm – if your property is unoccupied, make sure the heating is left on a low setting or the system is drained down to avoid any issues with damp or damaged pipes when the heating is turned back on;
3. Repair damage to the outside of the house - check the brickwork for cracks, make sure there are no loose or missing tiles on the roof and ensure there is no damage or blockages to the drains and guttering. Problems often occur in these areas during wet and icy weather so they need to be checked regularly;
4. Maintain all greenery on the premises – make sure that all bushes and trees are trimmed and kept properly to prevent damage to the house and other properties and cars during storms and high winds;
5. Keep the drafts out - make sure lofts and walls are fully insulated and fit draft excluders to doors and windows for extra protection;
6. Sweep the chimney – if you regularly use an open fire throughout the winter it is necessary to have the chimney swept annually to avoid the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning and chimney fires;
7. Check your insurance policy – it is vital to check exactly what your policy covers, and to come up with a plan of action should any urgent problems arise that aren't covered under the insurance;
8. Speak to your tenants – communication is key when preparing for winter as your tenants will be able to tell you what work needs to be done and how urgent it is. You should also inform them of any work that is scheduled, and who to contact in an emergency.

"It is vital that landlords take their responsibility seriously and prepare their properties soon before winter really kicks in," says Justin, Lettings manager at Connells Luton. "The problems that can arise are often not only very costly for landlords to fix, but can seriously affect the day-to-day lives of tenants. Don't be left out in the cold - come in and see us if you need any help or advice on how to get your properties winter ready."

Connells Luton can offer a range of lettings services and advice, from matching tenants to their ideal properties to full property management, rent collection and insurance advice. For further information please call the branch on 01582 450999 or email luton@connells.co.uk

“Major Move I would like to take this opportunity thank you all at Major Move for all your hard work in finding me a buyer for my bungalow. I had been trying to sell for nearly two years with several other estate agents without very much success. We were over the moon and indeed quite taken aback when after only a few viewings you had three couples interested at the same time. Without the help of your team we would probably still be there. Good job , well done !”

BMW M2 steers the legend even further down the road

The new BMW M2 is the latest compact sports coupe in a long line of legendary road and racing BMWs, such as the 2002 Turbo, E30 M3 and 1M coupe. Cast in a similar mould, it brings the concept right up to date with the latest in motor sport derived technology. The result is a powerful performer that delivers genuine driver satisfaction on the road, and extreme capability on the racing circuit.

Powered by a new, specifically developed, 3.0-litre straight-six engine with BMW TwinPower Turbo technology, the latest product from BMW produces a formidable 370hp, enabling an electronically-limited top speed of 155mph. When equipped with the optional seven-speed M DCT gearbox, the M2 can sprint from rest to 62mph in just 4.3 seconds.

This level of performance is expressed visually via unique enhancements to the base 2 Series coupe body, majoring on style but also reflecting the aerodynamic, cooling and chassis requirements of the new car. The BMW M engineers have worked tirelessly to reduce weight where ever possible, improve rigidity and hone the M2's responses via sophisticated chassis technology and electronics to deliver a truly rewarding drive.

The six-cylinder engine of the new BMW M2 is entirely in keeping with the finest BMW M tradition. It offers unbeatable driving fun on a racing circuit, yet remains completely civilised in everyday use. With an appetite for revs not normally associated with a turbocharged engine, it features an exceptionally linear power delivery and strong torque across a broad rev range, all delivered with a distinctive engine sound. Rapid responses and excellent efficiency are amongst the benefits of BMW's innovative M TwinPower Turbo technology.

The new 3.0-litre engine possesses an output of 370hp at 6,500rpm and will rev to 7,000rpm, while peak torque of 465Nm is on tap between 1,400 and 5,560rpm.

The new BMW M2 comes as standard with a six-speed manual gearbox, featuring dry-sump lubrication and an engagement speed control function that blips the throttle on downshifts and lowers the engine's revs on upshifts.

The car continues the tradition of the legendary original BMW M3 – the E30 from 1986 – famed for its blend of agility and precision, as well as its supremacy on the racing circuit and rally stage. Looking further back, the M2 can also be seen as a close descendant of a car from 40 years ago: the BMW 2002 turbo, which was the first mass-produced turbo-charged car offered for sale in Germany.

SsangYong Tivoli

Take a look inside...

The SsangYong Tivoli takes the fight to compact crossovers like the Nissan Juke and the Renault Captur with budget pricing, a gutsy 125PS engine and build quality the like of which you wouldn't credit at this price point. As long as SsangYong can promote this car effectively, it could be their breakthrough vehicle.

The Koreans certainly haven't done things by halves here. This is no cut-down Korando chassis with a bunch of ancient carry-over engines. The Tivoli has had some serious investment thrown at it, and it shows.

The chassis is all-new, albeit hardly adventurous in its suspension design, with MacPherson struts up front and a space-efficient torsion beam rear end. There's a choice of two 1.6-litre engines, a 128PS petrol unit and a 115PS diesel. Buyers can select either 2WD or 4WD model variants and prices start affordably from around £13,000.

The 1.6 petrol unit will get to 62mph in a relatively relaxed 12 seconds and is offered as standard with a six-speed manual gearbox. Pay a little more and you can pair this engine with a six-speed automatic, which is the same unit as seen in the latest MINI, albeit with a bit less sportiness built into the shift logic. Longer term plans could well see three and four-cylinder turbocharged powerplants find their way into the Tivoli. Other items of note? SsangYong's introducing a selectable weight steering system with Comfort, Normal and Sport settings and some surprisingly big wheels. Go for the smaller alloys if you value ride quality.

The Tivoli is one of those cars that the longer you look at it, the more design influences you can see. There's something of the Kia Soul in its overall proportioning, with a Nissan Juke-like rear haunch, a front end that's modern Renault in a good way.

Nor indeed is it a cheap looking one. The detailing such as the floating effect roof, the satin roof rails and the materials quality of the interior are at least as good as, if not better than, many of its mainstream rivals. The cabin certainly feels as if it's been the recipient of better quality dash panels and seats than, say, a Nissan Juke. The boot measures 423-litres to the parcel shelf, which is perfectly adequate in this class. The big players in this sector might not be worried yet, but SsangYong here delivers some wholly convincing arguments as to why that won't always be so.

Football clubs at mercy of mad owners too often

MANAGER EATER: Leeds United President Massimo Cellino is on to his sixth permanent manager 18 months after taking over the Elland Road clubWright on SPORT
Does a week ever go by where we don't hear about a football club owner dragging their team's name through the mud?

There have been a few shockers in recent years – there was the catastrophic hot potato strategy at Portsmouth while north of the border, Hearts only just survived the hare-brained regime of Vladimir Romanov.

Clubs haven't helped by allowing themselves to be conned at times – my personal 'favourite' has to be a 19-year-old called Spencer Trethewey, lending Aldershot £200,000 so they could start the 1990/91 season.

The only trouble was that the money wasn't his and not only did he not have the funds to keep the club going, he had no means of paying back the people he had borrowed it from.

Trethewey, a self-proclaimed property developer, was dismissed from the board, the Shots were wound up in 1992 and Trethewey was jailed for fraud two years later.

Which brings us neatly to a man who has been convicted for tax evasion, yet has somehow been allowed to get involved in English football.

Hats off to any reporters in the Leeds area on Monday as some serious hours must have been put in, given the amount of breaking news surrounding Leeds United and their crazy owner Massimo Cellino.

It all started in the morning when he sacked Uwe Rosler, who became the fifth manager to be dismissed since he took over at Elland Road in April 2014.

In the afternoon, he replaced him with Steve Evans, a man almost as extroverted and who has had his own troubles with the taxman in the past.

Before the day was out, Cellino had been banned from all football activities by the Football League for failing to pay VAT on an imported Land Rover, which disqualified him under their owners and directors test.

This is his second such ban and you can only hope things settle down in the 'manager eater's' absence as his hire and fire 'em policy has led to Leeds being unable to generate any momentum in the Championship. The real worry is that Cellino is allowed to resume creating chaos once his ban ends.

■ I'm a big fan of rugby, but one thing that does annoy me about it is the way it looks down its nose at football on certain issues.

It forfeited this position on one such issue last weekend – that being the respect shown towards referees.

Craig Joubert made a mistake in awarding Australia a late penalty against Scotland, but the level of abuse aimed his way from those in his sport set a worrying precedent.

Jordan reaches out for Rio dream after his England call

BOXING

JORDAN Reynolds is hoping to use his call to the England squad as a chance to put Luton on the map and progress in his already impressive boxing career.

20-year-old Jordan was called up to the squad on Wednesday after impressing in trials.

He said: "I just made sure that they had no option but to pick me."

"It's a step up, definitely, as most of the people in the team are 24 or 25 and hopefully it will mean I can get on the radar of Team GB and make it to the Olympics in Rio next year, I'm almost there."

Last month Jordan spent two weeks in Ireland, fighting in the Celtic Box Cup and training.

On this, he said: "I put a lot of work in and made sure I was super fit and ready for what came next."

"Team England came calling and I'm over the moon I made it."

He also took some time to reflect on the Box Cup, which he lost in the final to Portuguese Bruno Pereira, saying: "I was out-boxing him but he caught me with a big blow which I couldn't recover from."

"He's a strong guy and at 29-years-old he has more experience under his belt."

RISING STAR: Luton boxer Jordan Reynolds has one eye on making the GB team for Rio after fighting his way into the England team

"I believe everything happens for a reason and I'm glad it happened at this stage of my career."

"I was caught by surprise and it's something that could have finished me if it had happened in the pros."

"It was the first time I've been knocked down and it's something I can learn from and use to grow."

Jordan has also said he hopes to get Bruno to fly over to Luton next February for a rematch.

On his immediate plans, he said: "I'm just going to stay fit and active and wait and see what happens, whether with England or if other opportunities arise."

'At least we went for it,' says Luton boss

LUTON TOWN

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

MANAGER John Still admitted he didn't care that his Luton side lost in the last minute to Plymouth Argyle as they'd gone for glory, even with ten men.

Josh McQuoid scored his first for Town in the 75th minute to cancel out Carl McHugh's 15th minute opener and it looked like either side could snatch it.

But Ryan Hall got himself sent off with five minutes remaining for two quick yellow cards and then Pilgrims' striker Ryan Brunt bundled the ball in to win it 2-1 in the fifth minute of injury time.

Boss Still said: "We tried to win it, we were positive and did everything we could to try to win it and, you know what, I don't care because we did everything right. We've played really well.

"The boys are very disappointed but there's no need to be because I thought they played terrifically.

"We got beaten, last minute, but we tried to win it and I'm happy with that."

Asked if fans would be disappointed with his viewpoint, the Luton chief added: "They can say what they want. I don't care if we lose trying to win.

"Every game I've had here, we try to win. I've never played to draw, never. I'll always try to win and even with ten men we tried to win, so I was delighted with the attitude of the players to try to win.

"If people are unhappy with that I understand that, but I'm the manager, that's my philosophy. Every game we play we'll try to win. We tried to win today and we didn't, but I've got no complaints with the performance of the players at all."

It was the fifth time this term that the Hatters have conceded decisive goals at the death and this latest hammer blow has left them with three defeats and two draws from their last five outings in all competitions.

On suffering yet more late heart-break, the manager said: "I'm not saying we're unlucky because I don't believe in luck. We've done all we could do to win a game."

They are now 13 points off League Two leaders Plymouth and now six points off the play-offs after slipping to 15th in the table and Still admitted: "We should be higher. I think our performances, for a run, have been decent. Other than Crawley [a 2-1 away defeat last week] I think our performances have been decent.

"Home draws have not been good. We should be doing better. We should be getting stronger and I do believe that. I still say that we will get stronger, but this is football."

Next up for Still is a trip to his old club Dagenham and Redbridge, where the Hatters will want to end a run of four without a win against a team struggling near the bottom.

LEAGUE TWO

LUTON TOWN
PLYMOUTH ARGYLE

'HERE be dragons' was long ago used by not-so-intrepid explorers to mark areas of uncharted or dangerous territories on their maps.

We have now consigned these creatures to mythology...and Game of Thrones, but while enough of planet earth has been discovered to turn attentions to infinity and beyond, there's a case to say that old medieval practice of non-adventure is actually alive and well in Luton.

You see, as far as the furthest frontiers of the Kenilworth Road pitch are concerned, there may as well be fire-breathing beasts ruining Town's quest.

Other explanations are available but they contain no less mystery as to why the Hatters have been so potent on their travels but fail to go forth and conquer on home soil, or worse still, let invaders pillage late points. A team with 10 men behind the ball is one thing but league leaders Plymouth were cut from more adventurous cloth – the kind that leads teams to the Promised Land of promotion.

Luton have in their party the adventuring pioneers with the potential to reach those shores but it is going unfulfilled and even Christopher Columbus would have struggled to stumble upon America if he didn't take his best crew.

NOT ENOUGH: Josh McQuoid scores his first goal for Luton but the Hatters couldn't hang on and take a point

Town's changed to include Nathan Doyle, Luke Guttridge and the lesser spotted Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu, for his first start in 2015 and probably his last after limping off two minutes after break.

There was little Mark Tyler could have done to stop Argyle's opener, which came slightly against the run of play, when McHugh nodded Craig Tanner's cross-cum-shot beyond the already committed keeper, but from there it was all they could do to survive the shots fired repeatedly across their bows.

When Ruddock Mpanzu limped off early in the second half an almost palpable groan crept around the stands but it sparked a spirited surge from the hosts.

Cameron McGeehan almost levelled soon after when he beat keeper Luke McCormick to a cross but headed just wide, while Nathan Doyle forced the custodian to beat away his long range dipper.

McQuoid saw Kelvin Mellor deny him just as he looked likely to score but his frustration was only momentary as the former Bournemouth ace headed into an open net after McCormick had saved from McGeehan but any hope that Town might nick it was extinguished when Ryan Hall was sent off.

Things only got worse as an unlucky ricochet allowed Brunt to bully the ball in from close range five minutes into injury time.

Never mind dragons, Town keep getting their fingers burnt and one way or the other they've only themselves to blame.
